

We're Plugable, It's nice to meet you!

We're an American brand. From our HQ in sometimes sunny Seattle, WA, we've taken a different approach to computer peripherals. For starters, the folks who design our products are the same folks who support our products.

From concept to production, we've brought millions of devices to customers around the world. Somewhere along the way, we made this device which brought us to you. And we think that's neat.
